dlr Artists Network

21st May at 11.00am

Pavilion Theatre, Dún Laoghaire

for visual artists, writers, musicians, dancers, actors and anybody working in the Arts

Would you like to meet other people working in the arts, to share ideas, advice and information, to chat to other artists about developing projects together, to meet your local Arts Office staff, chat to them informally and receive free advice from professionals on how to develop your artistic career?

Then this is for you.

The dlr Artists Network will meet regularly to allow artists working in any discipline a chance to get together. Each session will begin with a presentation on an interesting topic designed to help you further your career. Then there will be time to ask questions, to share experiences and offer suggestions for future presentations.

After that there will be a chance to have a cuppa and chat informally to each other and the Arts Office staff.

The first meeting of the dlr Artists Network is on Saturday 21st of May from 11am – 1pm in the Pavilion Theatre, Dún Laoghaire.

The presentation will be by Emily Tully on how to grow your social network and how to use social media to create communities and promote your work. The event is free and there's no need to book. For more information please contact Carolyn Brown at cbrown@dlrcoco.ie or (01) 271 9532.

Future events will include tips for making a grant application and how to set up a studio.
