Jodi Picoult is the author of eighteen novels including My Sister's Keeper (now a major film starring Cameron Diaz), Nineteen Minutes, Change of Heart and Handle with Care. She lives in New Hampshire with her husband and three children.

Family secrets, tensions, life and death – and the natural philosophy of wolves - work their way through Jodi Picoult's new novel. The dreadful decision of whether or not to terminate a life is at the heart of the story, and the ordinary people who have to make that decision will find a resonance in us all.

Tickets, priced €5, are available from Pavilion Theatre Box office – paviliontheatre.ie or call (01) 231 2929
