

Information Notice on the appointment of a Panel of Approved Assessors as required under the Decorative Paints Regulations (S.I. No. 564 of 2012)

The above regulations for vehicle refinishing activities required the EPA to set up a panel of approved assessors. These Approved Assessors will be the inspection bodies for the purposes of carrying out inspections under the regulations. The details of the Approved Assessor are as follows:

- Enviroguide Consulting – Phone: 01 5654730 – Web: www.enviroguide.ie ·

The operator should engage the services of Enviroguide and pay them directly. In order to obtain your certificate of compliance from your local authority you must then send a compliant Approved Assessor report along with the application fee to your local authority.

The EPA would also like to remind you of some of the aspects of the regulations:

- Local Authorities can now issue certificates of compliance for up to 3 years rather than the previous 2 year period. However, certificates of a shorter duration may be issued if a Local Authority has concerns about a specific installation (including failure to renew certificates in time).
- The application fee payable by operators to their Local Authority has increased from €50 to €70 for new applications (but remains €50 for renewals). If an operator does not renew their certificate of compliance prior to its expiry date, they must then apply for a new certificate.
- The fine for uncertified operators has increased from €3,000 to €5,000 or imprisonment for up to six months, or both.

A copy of your certificate of compliance must be displayed in a prominent position at your premises.

It is illegal for any uncertified operator to carry out an activity for which a certificate of compliance is required under these Regulations. Any such operators should arrange for an inspection immediately.

Motor factory and paint suppliers should also note that it is an offence to place non-compliant vehicle refinishing products on the market. It is also expected that new legislation will be introduced shortly which will allow for fixed payment notices (i.e. 'on-the-spot fines') to be issued for any offences specified in the regulations.

Further news, updates and information can be obtained at the following website www.decopaints.ie and by contacting your Local Authority.