Section 247 of the Planning and Development Act, 2000 (as amended) states the following in this regard:

“The carrying out of consultations shall not prejudice the performance by a planning authority of any other of its functions under this Act, or any Regulations made under this Act and cannot be relied upon in the formal planning process or in legal proceedings”

1. Pre-planning consultations may be sought by e-mail or in writing and will be conducted either by e-mail, telephone call or in person (as appropriate). In the case of pre-planning consultations for Strategic Housing Developments, the consultations must be conducted in person.

This is especially important for proposals relating to works to a Protected Structure, works within the curtilage of a Protected Structure and works within an Architectural Conservation Area.
