The Covid-19 pandemic is ongoing and is still determining the way we work and live in 2021. The Southside Partnership Women's Programme and the women4women network activities, like many others, will resume, conducting the new winter/spring programme online until further notice.

We are delighted to offer all women in Dun Laoghaire Rathdown County a new programme booklet covering courses and events from January to June 2021. If the situation changes and face-to-face meetings are allowed again, courses/workshops and events will be organised in different community centres throughout the county.

As in previous years, we are offering Creative Spaces, an Integration Programme, Capacity Building and Multicultural Events. New to our programme is the Women and Leadership section. We want to look at our potential as leaders and widen the network of women who are working to influence decisions made on a local and county level.

All women from the DLR catchment area are invited to join the Southside Partnership Women's programme. In general, the programme is free of charge and will be held now mostly online through Zoom. Registration will be possible by phone or email.

We want to thank all the women who stayed engaged during this difficult time in 2020 and especially the participants from the sewing class who sewed nearly 200 facemask for families in supported living.

We wish you a good start into the new year in 2021.
Stay safe and healthy!

Creative Space

Many women who have participated in the women's programme have brought their ideas and expertise. Those women are usually facilitating water colouring, jewellery and paper cutting workshops in Furry Hill and other Community Centre. With the restrictions in place our creative space is limited to online workshops. We hope to be able to offer more workshops in centres again.

Creating your own Mandalas—Fridays for 2 weeks

Mandalas—An ancient art with repeat patterns in a circle used for meditation. It relaxes you because you are engrossed in the colours and the patterns and your mind gets a rest from all the usual thoughts.

In the session you can easily create your own beautiful Mandala.

Women and Leadership

Women are very often actively involved in their own communities but are not involved in the decision-making process. We want to look at our potential as leaders and widened the network of women working to influence decisions made on local and county levels. The focus of this programme is to develop women's political understanding and to look at engaging with local government processes. This will bring women's perspectives and voices to the decision making table.

Women and Leadership Workshop

This workshop will look at gender equality issues on global, national and local levels, allowing us to consider the implications and actions needed. This will also include opportunity to hear from women currently in leadership.

After the workshop participating women will progress into the Women's Voice Group to explore gender inequality in Ireland and actively engage in decision making structures in DLR.

Registration: please phone or email by the 22nd February 2021

Starting: 25th February Ending: 22nd April 2021

Time: from 10am to 12pm

Facilitated via Zoom
