Municipal Gallery
Exhibition Programme
Level 3:

Sea-change: IADT 21 years of art, film and animation

Until 21 October 2018

This anniversary exhibition includes contributions from alumni in the specialist fields of art, film and animation. The works in this exhibition have been selected by Oonagh Young to highlight the diversity of artistic practices that have been developed over twenty one years by graduates. The 'seachange' signifies a shift away from the traditional role of the creative industries, in-line with advancements in technology and is evident in the wide range of exciting and innovative professional artistic practices featured in this exhibition.

Peripheries: Patrick Graham,
Eddie Kennedy, Sinéad Ni
Mhaonaigh

23 Nov-20 Jan 2019

Curated by John Daly, Hillsboro Fine Art, this exhibition brings together, from different generations, three of Ireland's finest contemporary painters—Sinéad Ni Mhaonaigh (b. 1977), Eddie Kennedy (b. 1960) and Patrick Graham (b. 1943). There are many links that make them complementary neighbours in this gallery, not least their love of the sea and connection to Dún Laoghaire and its environs.

dlr Arts Office Events

As part of the dlr Arts Office Public Art Programme, we are delighted to present two traditional music performances of specially commissioned new work, and a collaborative performance work with young people.

Dinnseanachas: new work by Lorcan Mac Mathúna

Studio Theatre, Level 1
Saturday 20 October 7.00pm.
Free, booking essential

Dinnseanachas is the stories and music of place-names, and long held traditions. This special performance of traditional music and storytelling investigates the landscape of Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown; from the mountains to the sea, from the present and the past.

New work written and produced by Lorcan Mac Mathúna, with traditional stories selected by Seosamh O Maolalaí. Performed by Eamonn Galldubh and the musicians of CCÉ na Píobairí Uilleann under the direction of Clare Walsh; with spoken word by Seosamh O Maolalaí. Booking eventbrite.ie; search for Lorcan Mac Mathúna dlr Lexlcon.

World Premiere of 78 Revolution by Niall Valley Studio Theatre, Level 1 Friday 9 November 7.00pm. Free, booking essential

78 Revolution is an hour-long piece that will explore the interaction between live musicians and pre-recorded material; contemporary music and traditional music; modern technology and century-old technology. Composer Niall Valley will be joined by a stellar cast of musicians including Zoe Conway (fiddle), Mick O'Brien (pipes), Mick McAuley (accordion), Kate Ellis (cello) and Caoimhín Valley (piano) along with a soundscape that celebrates more than a century of traditional music.

Booking eventbrite.ie; search for Niall Valley dlr Lexlcon.

Grain-storm: new collaborative work by theatre artist Ciarán Taylor Studio Theatre, Level 1 Sun. 11 November 3.00pm. Free, booking essential

Grain-storm is a site-specific performance, created by theatre artist Ciarán Taylor with young people at the Grainstore, dlr's youth arts facility. It's the story of a song from the first chords strummed in a bedroom, to a performance for a festival crowd. It's the story of finding a creative path when you don't know where you are going. It's the story of the Grainstore. Elements of the Grainstore (taking place on Saturday 3 November) performance will be presented in the Studio Theatre at dlr Lexlcon so you can see the creative process in action.

Booking eventbrite.ie; search for Grain-storm dlr Lexlcon.

The Kaleidoscopic Child

12-17 November

Project Room: installation is open to the public, no booking required.

Performance Workshops, suitable for small babies to 5yrs and under; booking essential
Tues. 13 Nov, 9.30-10.15am
Wed. 14 Nov, 10.00-10.45am
Thurs. 15 Nov, 10.00-10.45am
(Complex needs only) &
Sat. 17 Nov, 10.30-11.15am.

'The Kaleidoscopic Child' was created in collaboration with the children and early years educators in Ballyogan Community Childcare in the Samuel Beckett Civic Campus. It is a multi-sensory interactive installation with and for early years children. Each of the elements within this installation invites both child and adult alike to twist, spin, build, turn, touch, solve, colour and peer into a world created to mirror the inside of a kaleidoscope without getting too dizzy. The installation is open to the public to play and explore in The Project Room.

During the run of the 'The Kaleidoscopic Child' artist Helen Barry will run a number of performance-based workshops for early years children that further turn our world inside out and upside down. These workshops are suitable for children with complex needs. Booking eventbrite.ie; search for dlr Lexlcon Gallery.

World War I and Ireland's Humanitarian Effort

Curated by Pádraig Allen

5 Sept-25 Oct 2018

This exhibition, curated by St. John Ambulance Ireland, tells the stories of the non-combatants who volunteered to provide medical care and assistance for World War I casualties at home and overseas. Over 400 members of the St John Ambulance Brigade and the British Red Cross Society turned out when the RMS Leinster was sunk, treating the injured and attending to bodies recovered from the Irish Sea. This exhibition features archives and photos, some never seen before and forms a centrepiece of the RMS Leinster commemoration events at dlr Lexlcon. Also on display is a Model T Ford 1915 St John Ambulance.

Light Keepers: An exhibition by Geraldine O'Sullivan

1 Nov 2018-7 Jan 2019

Light Keepers is a collection of 25 artworks capturing the unique world of Irish lighthouses. The paintings and lifescapes not only show the physical structures but also capture the echo of the lives lived by the keepers and their families. Where possible, the artwork is based on narratives told by retired light keepers and their families who once lived in the most desolate and beautiful headlands and offshore lighthouse stations on the Irish coastline.

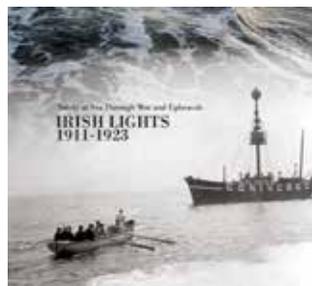

Gerald Butler Talk

Tues 20 Nov, 7.00pm

Free event, all welcome.

No booking required.

Gerald Butler, author of The Lightkeeper: A Memoir (2013) will give a talk beside Geraldine O'Sullivan's exhibition.

Level 4

Irish Lights 1911-1923:

Safety at sea through War and upheaval

A joint collaboration of the Commissioners of Irish Lights and the Royal Irish Academy

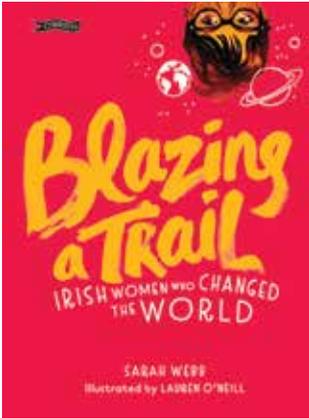

19 Sept 2018-7 Jan 2019

This exhibition highlights the history of Irish Lights between 1911 and 1923. Irish Lights' overall mission of safe navigation at sea, is looked at in the context of the wider political and economic developments of the time. The exhibition uses hitherto unexplored sources from the Irish Lights' archive to present a new and distinctive view of modern Ireland's most critical decade.

Blazing a Trail: Irish Women Who Changed the World.
Curated by former dlr Writer in Residence, Sarah Webb
5 Oct 2018-7 Jan 2019

The women in this vibrant exhibition have excelled in the arts and entertainment, science and medicine, politics, sports, aviation and adventure. Find out more about these remarkable Irish women, from Dún Laoghaire-born artist Sarah Purser to ground-breaking architect Eileen Gray, including plenty of contemporary trailblazers such as scientist Norah Patten and footballer Anne O'Brien. Linked to the new book from O'Brien Press of the same name by Sarah Webb and illustrated by Lauren O'Neill, this exhibition celebrates the centenary of votes for women in Ireland and the women who fought to change history.

Des Branigan, 1918-2016.
Curated by Joe Ryan,
Irish Coast Guard (retired).
20 Aug-22 Oct 2018

Des Branigan was a seaman who achieved great things as a trade unionist, archaeological diver and maritime historian. His role in bringing one of the RMS Leinster anchors to Dún Laoghaire forms part of his fascinating story. Also included is the Des Branigan maritime book collection, donated to dlr Lexlcon in 2016.

The S.S. Hare and S.S. Adela:
Dublin Port in time of war
1914-1918.
Travelling exhibition courtesy of David Cotter and
Dublin City Public Libraries
20 Aug-22 Oct 2018

On 14 December 1917, the S.S. Hare was torpedoed as it travelled from Manchester into Dublin Port, with the loss of 12 lives. On 27 December 1917, the S.S. Adela was torpedoed as it travelled to Liverpool from Dublin Port and 24 lives were lost. This exhibition tells their story and covers the rise of the U-boat threat 1914-18.

Charles Stanley Cuthbert:
Manuscript of an Irish soldier
during WWI

5 Nov 2018-31 Jan 2019

Thanks to the family of Charles Stanley Cuthbert who donated their grandfather's manuscript, we have an original account by a surviving Irish soldier who fought in WWI. The manuscript has been conserved and digitised and is accompanied by a number of artefacts, including shrapnel taken from a wound sustained by Charles in 1918.

Remembered: A Bray Man in the Great War.
Curated by dlr Libraries' staff member Seán Downes.

7 Nov 2018-31 Jan 2019

This is the story of Private 21526 Cleary, John of 'D' Company, 9th Dublins, but it is also the story of his comrades and includes extracts from their surviving letters. John Cleary, like so many others, has no known grave, and no photograph of him exists to date. But he is always remembered...

dlr Lexlcon Residencies

Writer in Residence

dlr Writer in Residence Sarah Maria Griffin is swiftly moving towards completing her third novel. For the rest of the year, she will be focusing on developing a workshop that encourages the writing of personal history through the language and metaphor of food. Interested? Book your place now by emailing dlrlexiconlib@dlrcoco.ie
Room 4, Level 5
Wednesdays 6.15-7.45pm
17 & 24 Oct & 7, 14, 21, 28 Nov & 5 Dec

Sarah is also participating in the RMS Leinster event on Wed 10 Oct and will be interviewing Nuala O'Connor on Tues 23 Oct in dlr Lexlcon at 7.30pm as part of the dlr Library Voices series

Curator Archivist in Residence

Since David Gunning has joined dlr Lexlcon, he has identified and inventoried archival collections in the Local Studies Department; is currently creating a series of finding aids to allow for the management of the materials and their future use by researchers.

He has also worked with dlr Lexlcon management to develop a climate-controlled environment that will ensure the long-term preservation of the varied material held in the archive.

The Lexlcon has recently accessioned a number of invaluable archival collections, including the research material of F.M. O'Flanagan; a Dalkey resident and historian, and a collection of nearly 150 glass plate photographs collected by Charles Hamilton Oswald. These important collections are currently being catalogued, and will be digitised and made available online in the near future.

David is also working with the National Federation of Local History Societies to organise a training day in dlr Lexlcon on Sunday 7 October. Full details available soon in a separate flier. [Image above from Charles Hamilton Oswald Collection].

Newsflash! Sarah Maria Griffin will be chatting to author Julian Gough, left, at dlr Lexlcon on Wed 3 Oct at 7.00pm on the following intriguing topic! Press 1 for Dystopia, Press 2 for Utopia: Will technology lead us to heaven, or hell? Event free but booking essential on eventbrite.ie

Queen Medhb of Connaught wants something: a prized bull of Ulster. And Queen Medhb is the sort of person who gets what she wants. On Samhain, when the veil between this world and the next is at its thinnest, she will march on Ulster with the armies of Ireland. But as the days grow darker, danger lurking in the shadows grows too. Candlelit Tales presents The Táin. A unique and exciting modern retelling of the greatest tale of Irish mythology set to a pulsating live musical score.

On 3 November 2018, 500 children in 18 international cities will work in parallel to design solutions that help bring about a more sustainable world. This year the theme is Life on Land and dlr Lexlcon is the location for the Dublin team.

During the day the children will:

- Design their future cities
- Imagine sustainable solutions
- Build prototypes using recycled materials and electronic parts
- Present them to each other via a live connection.

The design-based learning method used in the workshop teaches children to design solutions for big and small problems, creatively and critically use new technology and become changemakers for a better, more sustainable world.

John Boyne's new novel is a seductive psychodrama about the boundless ambition of a brilliantly devious aspiring writer. Maurice Swift is handsome, charming, and hungry for success. The one thing he doesn't have is talent – but he's not about to let a detail like that stand in his way. After all, a would-be writer can find stories anywhere. They don't need to be his own. Ladder to the Sky is at once a pacy thriller and a devastating satire on the contemporary literary landscape.

Becoming Belle is a witty, feminist novel set in Victorian London, based on the true story of a woman ahead of her time. In 1887, Isabel Bilton is the eldest of three daughters of a middle-class military family, growing up in a small garrison town. By 1891 she is the Countess of Clancarty, dubbed "the peasant countess" by the press, and a member of the Irish aristocracy. Nuala O'Connor's brilliant new novel is the story of the four years in between, of Belle's rapid ascent and the people that tried to tear her down. The novel serves as a reminder of the author's uncanny knack for transmuting the lives of historical characters into urgently compelling fiction.

The Vogue is an unforgettable novel of ghosts, lies and the ways in which the past can return with a vengeance. Late 1944, and two teenagers dance the Vogue in silence on the projectionist's floor of the Cranfield Aerodrome. Decades later, a ghost returns to the shifting sands. Names have long since been changed; children long since cast out; lies long thought forgotten. Set against an eerie landscape, awash with secrets, The Vogue is a grimly poetic dance through the intertwined stories of a deeply religious community, an abandoned military base, and a long-shuttered children's Care Home.

Melmoth, Sarah Perry's follow-up to her wildly-successful historical novel, The Essex Serpent, promises to be one of the most talked-about books of 2018. Helen Franklin is assailed with guilt for past misdeeds but her sheltered life is upended when a strange manuscript comes into her possession. Filled with testimonies from the darkest chapters of human history, it records sightings of a tall, silent woman in black - Melmoth, the loneliest being in the world. Everyone that Melmoth seeks out must make a choice: to live with what they've done, or be led into the darkness. As her past finally catches up with her, Helen too must choose which path to take.

Before his death, Seamus Heaney had intended to assemble a personal selection of poems as an introduction for new readers. He never managed to do this himself but now the project has been completed by the Heaney family. To celebrate the publication of 100 Poems an all-star cast including Marie Heaney, Paula Meehan, Colette Bryce, Simon Armitage and John Kelly will read selected Heaney poems, sure to be amongst your favourites. Music by Colm Mac Con Iomaire.
