

Dementia and Creativity Awareness Talks

A series of talks exploring dementia and creativity with the Global Brain Health Institute. The talks will explore the positive impacts of music, movement, visualising, storytelling and connecting on people living with dementia. They include interactive and performative elements and will be given by artists and fellows of the Global Brain Health Institute. Karen Meenan will lead this talk series.

The talks are free, but booking is required.

Tea and coffee will be provided.

Book on www.eventbrite.ie and search for dlr Lexlcon

dlr Lexlcon, Haigh Terrace, Moran Park Dún Laoghaire, A96 H282

E: arts@dlrcoco.ie T: (01) 236 2759

Music and Movement

Wednesday 30 November, 11am to 1pm
Gallery and Project Room, Level 3

Book Here

Explore the positive impacts of music and movement for people living with dementia in this fascinating talk and performance with Global Brain Health Institute Fellows Mike Hanrahan, Dr Aline Haas, Dr Anusha Mohan and Dancer Olwyn Lyons.

Storytelling and Singing

Wednesday 7 December, 11am to 1pm
Studio, Level 1

Book Here

Explore the positive impacts of storytelling and singing for people living with dementia. In this fascinating talk and performance with world renowned poet and member of Aosdána Tony Curtis and composer and musical director of the Forget-Me-Nots Choir Norah Constance Walsh.

Visualising and Connecting

Wednesday 14 December, 11am to 1pm
Studio, Level 1

Book Here

Join artist, teacher and writer Caroline Hyland and Kevin Quaid author of two books about his experiences of living with Lewy Body Dementia in this final talk of the series about Dementia and Creativity.